acquaints students and beginning researchers with a broad view of research methodologies and the assumptions that informs each approach text for introductory research courses in the professional fields and social sciences this amazing highly readable book breaks a new ground in revealing the dominant theories and policies that have had profound effects on the strategies to accommodate cultural diversity on university campus this book has outlined an emerging concept of some considerable significance interculturalisation from a variety of contemporary perspectives and indicated its conceptual potential in understanding the impact of higher education on globalisation internationalisation and the knowledge economy the book begins with an overview of globalization showing how wealth and power are concentrated in the hands of a transnational elite while ever increasing numbers of people are being marginalised institutions such as the world trade organisation and the international monetary fund are intent upon exercising a new hegemony over individuals as the role of the traditional nation state is transformed at the centre of this power shift is a group of high tech robber barons who dominate the information age and exploit the technologies of globalization for their own narrow interests the second part of the book explores the rise of the new grass roots oppositional movements around the world manifest in such diverse struggles as the uprising of the zapatistas in Mexico and the battle of Seattle against the World Trade Organisation this new postmodern politics is de-centred and has little interest in the old ideologies that dominated much of the twentieth century the final section of the book contextualizes postmodern politics by drawing on contemporary examples the authors discuss the demise of socialist and proto socialist experiments in Chile Grenada Nicaragua and Cuba and the emergence of postmodern movements in Latin America the final two chapters take a specific look at the Zapatista movement and its significance for revolutionary struggles around the world challenges to the study of history have been raised by globalization and by new transformations linked to postmodernism and postcolonialism this book puts forward new approaches in historical research that emphasize the dual processes of integration and fragmentation in a globalized world this text looks at the study of disability within the context of the postmodern world of the 21st century the authors aim to demystify the concept of postmodernity and to suggest ways in which it fosters a holistic approach to the study of disability
